

EXERCISE

As far as I know, this is an excellent exercise.

I take care not to destroy the editors' implicit permission.

"Permission" means enclosure, as around a garden.

I can easily imagine some speakers of some languages.

The Hungarian word for apple is the same as the word for cat.

It is of course clear that the sky needs to emerge into discourse.

A single tomato is far more interesting than dozens of others.

I ask myself why, with smooth, measured strokes.

Every word we write is bound to narrate you somehow.
